FARM PROGRAM RECOMMENDED BY PRESIDENT

Asks for Long Range Legislation Geared to Larger Production.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—President Truman asked congress today to pass long range farm legislation geared to the greatly increased productive capacity of American farms.

Such a program, he said in a special message to the legislators, should have a price support system designed to guide farm production to the farmers' market.

He said the "fundamental national policy" of farm legislation should aim for "organized, sustained, realistic abundance."

Mr Truman added:

"A policy of abundance includes some factors that lie outside the field of agriculture. The maintenance of high levels of employment and the maintenance of export outlets are prime essentials."

The government now has a wartime farm program. The major price supporting phases of it will expire Dec. 31 unless congress acts at this session.

Omits Details

The President gave only a general outline of what he thought the long-range legislation should be.

These general proposals were closely in line with provisions of a long-range program approved Thursday by the Republican-nominated senate agriculture committee, and urged last fall by the agriculture department.

Mr. Truman did not recommend, as agriculture department officials had expected, a boost of $75,000,000 in the $225,000,000 soil conservation fund proposed by the GOP congress. In his January budget message, the president urged $300,000,000 for soil subsidies to farmers.

The President said farm legislation should have these policies:

▶Sound and lasting economic well being for the farm population with parity of prices and income in relation to the rewards in other fields.

▶An agriculture that will supply ample products for domestic needs, for sufficient reserve stocks and for export under present and rising standards of living.

▶Use of farm resources in a manner that will insure their permanent maximum productivity.

▶Improved levels of nutrition in living for all the people.

▶Ever-increasing efficiency in production and distribution.

▶A better living for small farmers, tenant farmers, sharecroppers and farm labor.

The President's message was aimed, Democratic leaders have said at laying the groundwork for the party's campaign to win the farm vote in November.

Back of the strategy was said to be a belief congress will not pass a permanent program at this session, but will enact only a one-year extension of the present program with perhaps some modifications.

See Possible Price Drop

Mr. Truman emphasized a permanent program because agriculture officials forecast that farm prices, now high, may run into trouble later on.

Mr. Truman said the program should have a system of flexible price supports which could be used indirectly to guide or control production.

"Many shifts in production will have to be made, and flexible price supports will help us make them in an orderly manner," he said. "This will require authority to make prompt adjustments in support of levels in line with current and prospective supply and demand conditions."

The bill approved by the senate committee provides for flexible supports.

Mr. Truman urged congress to give "full support" to the continuance and expansion of our program of soil conservation. This recommendation was the nearest the President came to urging an increase in soil subsidy funds.

He also recommended continued government support for agricultural research, further efforts to establish a "sound" system of crop insurance, government aid in providing better health services to rural areas and continued federal aid in extending electricity to farms.

Stressing need for export markets on some farm products, the chief executive asked senate ratification of the international wheat agreement and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act.

He said the trade agreements act had helped agriculture and that the wheat agreement would provide growers of that grain aid in maintaining foreign markets.

CLEVELAND, May 14—A. C. Ernst, 66, managing partner of Ernst & Ernst, certified public accountants, and one of the city's leading citizens, died last night in a hospital.

Officials Study Police Radio

City and County Investigates Methods of Providing Joint Service.

A 3-hour joint meeting of city and county officials was held in the county commissioners office at the courthouse yesterday afternoon to bring up to date developments in the year-old plan to provide joint police radio facilities of the city and county.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler, Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher and Police Chief W. E. Marks represented the city while Carl H. Lehner, Luther Mitchell, and William Risch, Marion county commissioners, and Sheriff LeRoy Retterer, represented the county.

The combined all city-county police radio station has been a hope of both city and county officials for a long time but the uncertainty of the overall police radio set-up in Ohio because of official indecision of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington has already caused a delay of one year in the project, officials here say.

Question of FM

Police radio is suffering growing pains both actually and officially because of the advent of frequency modulation, or FM as it is popularly known. The fear of both city and county officials has been that should the city and county join forces in an all-county radio set-up and purchase audio modulation, or AM, equipment, a ruling by the FCC might be made which would place police radio on FM wavelengths and existing equipment would immediately be inadequate.

Equipment in use by the highway patrol here and over the state is FM equipment. Radio equipment in use by Marion city police is both FM and AM equipment. At present the main police radio transmitter in city hall broadcasts on AM wavelength.

REV. E. L. RUSH DIES SUDDENLY

Mt. Gilead Pastor, Pioneer in Boy Scout Work, Stricken Near Delaware.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., May 14—Rev. Leslie Eugene Rush, 68, pastor of the Mt. Gilead Trinity Methodist church, a former Ohio legislator and pioneer worker in the Boy Scouts of America, died about 3 p. m. Thursday while mowing the lawn at his summer home near the Olentangy river, three miles south of Delaware on route 315. Death was attributed to a heart attack. A passing motorist who saw him fall to the ground called an ambulance and Rev. Rush was pronounced dead upon arrival at Jane Case hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. Rush had gone to Delaware to spend the day visiting friends, and in the afternoon, he decided to go to the summer cottage for a while. He had gone to the cottage alone.

A statistician of the North East Ohio Conference of the Methodist church 22 years, he had been with this office 40 years. Rev. Rush had been a member of the North East Conference since 1909 and was serving his thirteenth year as pastor of the Mt. Gilead Methodist church. He had planned to retire from the ministry in June.

Rev. Rush was one of the first three Boy Scout masters in the United States, and was one of the group of 23 who received the first official Boy Scout commissions in the U.S. Commissioned a Scoutmaster at the country's first Boy Scout organization meeting in New York City on Feb. 8, 1910, he had been carrying on a program among boys in Delaware for at least two years previously. This group then became known as Boy Scouts.

Received Highest Honor

In 1932, at a banquet in Marion, Rev. Rush received Scouting's highest honor, a Silver Beaver medal with palms, which is awarded for distinguished service to boyhood. At the time of his death, Rev. Rush was serving as a member of the Harding Area Council executive board. He previously had held various regional positions.

A native of Hayesville, O., Ashland county, he was a blacksmith before coming to Delaware in 1908 to enter Ohio Wesleyan university. As a student, he was given the pastorate of Grace Methodist church, a small mission in the east side of Delaware. He was its pastor for 22 years until 1930 when he became superintendent of the Worthington Methodist Children's Home. He served in this capacity five years, after which he went to Mt. Gilead.

Led Flood Rescue

Rev. Rush did not graduate from Ohio Wesleyan, having become too busy with his ministerial duties to complete college and seminary training. During the 1913 flood he was a leader in rescue work in the east section of Delaware.

REPORT GIVEN ON STUDY OF LIVING COSTS

Congress Group Urges Voluntary Price and Wage Control by Business, Labor.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—The congressional economic committee said today business "can and should adopt moderate price and profits policies" and labor "reasonable wage attitudes" to cut living costs.

"If the private decisions as to in the public interest, actions of wages and prices are not made government alone will be largely nullified," the senate-house group said in its formal report to congress.

The document covers a coast-to-coast study last fall of "the high prices of consumer goods."

The committee, headed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), makes 16 recommendations aimed at achieving a stable economy. The report puts emphasis on voluntary measures and in general steers clear of legal controls at this time.

Originated by Baldwin

A resolution by Senator Baldwin (R-Conn) authorized the committee's study. Baldwin is not a member of the full committee, but did serve by invitation on the eastern subcommittee.

He said in a statement today:

"Because I believe that the threat of prices and inflation is still very much with us even though somewhat clouded over by other pressing concerns, I had hoped that these recommendations (of the committee) would be somewhat more comprehensive.

"However, it was clear that this was the widest common ground on which the committee could agree."

The report hints the committee believes inflation has been checked. It does this by saying at one point: "If inflationary trends are resumed . . ."

Clause on 40-Hour Week

With a view to greater output of scarce goods, the committee recommends extension of the 40-hour work week "wherever feasible, by collective bargaining agreement between management and labor as to terms and conditions for overtime work" But the committee added:

"In the absence of such voluntary agreement, no suggestion is made in this recommendation to modify the time-and-one-half overtime provision of the basic 40-hour week."

The report is mainly a blending of recommendations by the three subcommittees which held hearings in 26 cities. Notably absent from the full committee's program are recommendations:

▶By its western subcommittee that the wartime excess profits tax be revived.

▶By its eastern subcommittee that "it may be worthwhile to consider the rationing of a limited group (of food items): say, meat, butter and poultry."

Mob Smashes Into Plant, Beats Non-Strikers, Abducts Thirty

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 14—The Minnesota National Guard was being called out today for duty at strikebound packing plants in Newport and South St. Paul, scenes of strike violence.

* * *

By The United Press

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., May 14 — A mob of about 200 men smashed their way into the Cudahy Packing plant at nearby Newport, Minn., today and abducted 30 non-strikers after beating them up and wrecking meat packing equipment.

The non-strikers apparently were hauled from the plant in cars and put along roads near town at intervals.

Washington county Sheriff Reuben Glandquist said 15 had been recovered by 4:30 a. m. He said no trace had been found of the other 15.

Officials of the striking CIO United Packinghouse Workers denied that the attack had been planned by the union.

However, plant officials said many of the invaders were recognized as striking members of the union.

R. J. Swenson, manager of the Cudahy plant, said six of the non-strikers were injured in the fierce fighting inside the plant.

Two Seriously Injured

Two were injured seriously and taken to a hospital. One of the injured men was cut badly about the face, Swenson said, and the other suffered numerous cuts and a back injury.

Swenson said the invaders entered the plant through the main gate after breaking the lock. He said they overpowered the watchmen on duty and entered the plant itself.

They shut off the boilers in the plant immediately and threw the main switch, Swenson said. Then they marched through the factory, breaking into every locked room in a search for non-striking workers.

Swenson said the attack apparently had been planned carefully. Each man seemed to know exactly where he was to go and what he was to do, he said.

The invaders used knives and sticks to break up the cots and sleeping equipment of the workers.

Swenson said he had heard that Gov. Luther T. Youngdahl was conferring at the state capitol with Ellard Walsh, adjutant general of Minnesota, on the advisability of declaring martial law and sending National Guard troops against the strikers.

Youngdahl's office made no mention of the meeting, however.

Hogs Turned Loose

The attackers opened the livestock pens near the plant and freed approximately 110 hogs which were shipped to the plant yesterday. A few of them were captured in the darkness but most of them still were missing.

Glandquist said that the "hostages" who had been recovered had recognized many of the invaders He asked County Attorney William T. Johnson to make out warrants for their arrest.

Today's fight marked the third consecutive day in which violence has occurred in the area

Yesterday pickets at the Swift and Armour plants here battled police who tried to enforce a temporary injunction against mass picketing.

After police retreated while the pickets derided them, Youngdahl announced that he would call out the National Guard if local police officers were not able to cope with the violence.

Kennedy's Daughter Among Victims of 3 Air Crashes

By The United Press

The daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain, was among at least 13 persons known to have been killed in three widely separated plane crashes. Thirty-six other persons are missing.

Kennedy's daughter, Kathleen Lady Hartington, 28, and Lord Fitzwilliam, 38, one of Britain's richest peers, died in the crash of their chartered plane in the mountains of southern France during a thunderstorm. Two crewmen also were killed.

United States army authorities in Frankfurt, Germany, announced that an American B-29 Superfortress crashed in Saudi Arabia on a training flight, killing nine. Four were missing. There was one survivor.

25 Passengers

The Belgian airline Sabena reported in Brussels that one of its planes carrying 25 passengers and a crew of seven was missing on a flight from the Belgian Congo of Central Africa.

The plane, carrying Lady Hartington, a two-engine DeHavilland Dove, crashed in the Ardeche mountains near Privas, a village between Lyon and Marseille. Officials of the Skyways Charter Co. of London, which owned the plane, said the ship was bound for Cannes from Paris.

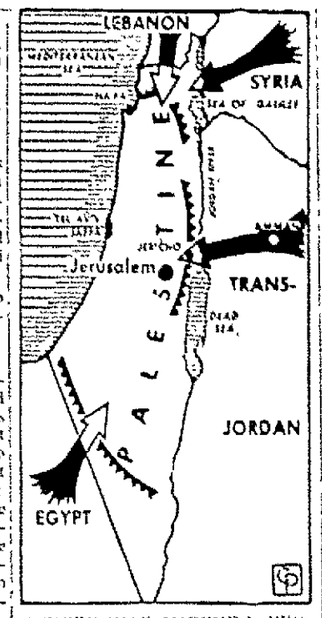
Miss Kennedy's father, now staying in a Paris hotel, could not be reached for comment on the death of his daughter who married the Marquess of Hartington, whom she met in British court circles in 1944. The marquess was killed in France at the age of 26 while serving with the Coldstream Guards.

On Training Flight

In Saudi Arabia the big American air force plane was reported to have crashed at a point 120 miles northwest of the American oil center of Dahran. It was one of a group of Superfortresses that left Germany on a "navigational training operation" three days ago.

Sabena later said the wreckage of its plane was sighted near the Oubangi river about 15 miles south of Libengo. It said it had no information on the fate of those aboard, and rescue crews were on their way to the scene from Leopoldville.

The company said the plane was a four-engined airliner that left Leopoldville Thursday at 8:05 GMT (5:05 a. m. EST) for Brussels.



WHERE WAR IMPENDS. With borders closed by Haganah as the new Jewish state was proclaimed today, and with the Jews in control of the Holy Land's largest cities, Arab forces were poised on all land borders (arrows) to strike. Arab-Jewish fighting was already under way in the area between Jerusalem, where the truce was broken, and Jericho. Amman, Trans-Jordan capital, was teeming with military might streaming west.

DECLARATION MADE AT CLOSE OF BRITISH RULE

New Hebrew Nation Named "Israel"; Prepare To Meet Arab Invasion.

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, PALESTINE, May 14—The Jews proclaimed today an independent state — the first Hebrew nation in 2,000 years.

The British high commissioner, symbol of Britain's hectic 31-year rule of the Holy Land, left Palestine soil.

The Jewish provisional government issued a "Declaration of Independence of the Jewish State."

The Jews, the declaration said, have the right to a life of dignity, freedom and labor."

The contribution of Palestine's Jews in the war against the Nazis "gained them the title to rank with the people who founded the United Nations," it said, adding:

On Nov. 29, 1947, the general assembly of the United Nations adopted a resolution for the re-establishment of an independent Jewish state in Palestine and called upon the inhabitants of the country to take such steps as may be necessary on their part to put the plan into effect.

"This recognition by the United Nations of the right of the Jewish people to establish their independent state may not be revoked. It is moreover the self-evident right of the Jewish people to be a nation, as all other nations, in its own sovereign state.

"Accordingly, we, the members of the national council representing the Jewish people in Palestine and the Zionist movement of the world, met together in solemn assembly by virtue of the natural and historic right of the Jewish people and of the resolution of the general assembly of the United Nations hereby proclaim the establishment of the Jewish state in Palestine, to be called Israel."

In the uniform of a general of the British army, High Commissioner Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham moved to the cruiser Euryalus, lying off Haifa, while bagpipes wailed the doleful strains of "The Minstrel Boy."

The high commissioner leaves at midnight, and a minute later the Jewish state comes into being by proclamation. A modest ceremony to usher in the infant state was arranged for late this afternoon.

Ready To Resist Invasion

The Jewish Army, Haganah, braced itself on three frontiers, ready to meet the threat of any Arab invasion. Haganah reported Syrian armored forces already inside Palestine on the north, attacking Dan, northernmost limit of the Holy Land of Bible days. Egyptian forces are reported probing the Negeb desert area in the south. On the east, Iraqi and trans-Jordan troops are reported in readiness.

(The general secretariat of the Arab league proclaimed a state of war exists between the Arab league nations and Palestine Jewry. Syria and Lebanon declared a state of emergency in their countries. Trans-Jordan's capital, Amman, appeared calm).

Last of British Rule

Cunningham drove out of Jerusalem early this morning while a solitary bagpiper skirled a Scottish lament. With him went the last of Britain's long mandatory rule of the Holy City.

On the eve of this Independence day, Haganah conceded the first major Arab conquest of the fighting under way since the UN assembly voted for partition last Nov. 29.

It said the Jewish religious settlement of Kefar Etzion south of Bethlehem, breached and burning, fell last night to Arab legionnaires with artillery, tanks and armored cars.

The Jews had lost more than 10 killed and wounded, Haganah reported, during a 48-hour siege of the settlement, which flanks the road to Jerusalem from Egypt.

Vacation Trips To N. Y. City Offered High School Students Here as Essay Contest Awards

Two Marion county high school students, a boy and a girl, will spend a gala three-day weekend in New York City this summer with all expenses paid as guests of the Erie Railroad, in cooperation with the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

The trips will be awarded to a boy and a girl student, regularly attending high school, for writing the best essays based on "Men of Erie," a history of the Erie Railroad. The history, in condensed form, will begin appearing in The Marion Star next Monday, May 17. The six installments, one each day during the week, will tell of the early struggles to build a railroad through this area approximately a hundred years ago.

In order to win one of the trips, contestants must write and submit an essay of not more than 1,000 words based on this material to the Chamber of Commerce on or before May 29, one week after the final installment has appeared.

The contest is open to high school students of the Marion city schools, St. Mary Parochial High school and the Marion county schools.

Appointment of Judges

Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by Superintendent L. L. Dickey, city schools; Superintendent D. T. Mills, county schools, and the Very Rev. Fr. W. J. Spickerman, V.F., parochial schools. The names of the judges will be announced later.

Winners will be announced on June 17.

The holiday weekend has been scheduled to begin July 10.

The boy and girl winners from the Marion area will go to New York City on one of the Erie Railroad's fast passenger trains, drawn by a streamlined Diesel-electric locomotive. They will meet approximately 40 other boys and girls from other cities in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, all winners of similar essay contests.

Entertainment Arranged

Arriving in Jersey City, the Erie's eastern terminus, the group will cross the Hudson river on one of the Erie railroad's ferry boats. From the boat, they will see the famed New York skyline. A bus will take them to the Radio City headquarters of the railroad for the start of three busy days of sightseeing.

During the three-day trip, the party will stay in one of the leading hotels. According to plans, a program of visits to many places of interest such as theaters, museums, Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, Radio City and many others, will be made. The group will dine in restaurants frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines.

Because of the importance of the Erie railroad to the growth and development of Marion, its industries and population, the "Men of Erie" essay contest has received the approval of civic and school officials.

SLATE FRED JOHNSON FOR OHIO GOP HEAD

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—Fred H. Johnson, Zanesville insurance executive, was to be re-elected chairman of the Ohio Republican party today.

The newly-elected state central committee scheduled its organization meeting at noon, with no opposition to Johnson apparent at the time the gavel fell.

Johnson had been opposed for reelection to the committee in his 15th congressional district by John B. Beckett of Cumberland, but won reelection at the May 4 primary. Johnson has been chairman almost three years, succeeding Ed D. Scherr of Cincinnati.

The committee, composed of one committeeman and one committeewoman from each of the state's 22 congressional districts, has five new members. Among them are Robert L. Evans of Findlay, who succeeds David H. Sears of Harpster, in the Eighth district.

SEN. OVERTON OF LA. DIES IN WASHINGTON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—Sen. John H. Overton of Louisiana, 72, died early today at Bethesda naval hospital. He underwent an abdominal operation May 5.

Once a center of political controversy in his state, Overton had been a member of congress since 1931. He was elected to the house of representatives that year to finish an unexpired term.

The following year he was elected to the senate with the support of his close friend, the late Huey P. Long, after a rough political fight against the incumbent, Sen. Edwin S. Broussard.

A bitter foe of daylight saving time, Overton in 1947 and again this year fought against bills to set the clock ahead one hour in the District of Columbia. When he lost, he kept his own senate office on standard time.

He ran for his final term in 1944 at the urging of 46 senators who asked him in a letter to reconsider his decision to retire because of ill health.

At the time of his death, Overton was ranking Democratic member of the senate public works committee and one of the senate's leading champions of river and navigation projects, especially in the Mississippi river valley. He also was a member of the appropriations committee.

Your Good Health

Acne Can Be Real Problem

To the youngster who suffers from it, acne presents a very real problem. It is one that also merits serious consideration of parents and doctors because in severe cases it can produce permanent scarring of both face and personality, leading as it so often does to the development of an inferiority complex which may last well into adult life.

This long-continued inflammation of the sweat and fat glands in the face is characterized by blackheads and pimples. The eruption appears most often on the cheeks, chin and forehead but it may also occur on the neck, chest, shoulders and back.

Though long sought, the exact cause of acne has not been discovered. Many experts believe that because it is so common during the maturing period, some disturbance of the glands of internal secretion may be responsible; others, finding that it has a tendency to run in families, see inheritance as the determining factor; still others believe that the main cause may lie in digestive disturbances and the excessive use of fats and sugars in the diet.

Since the cause of the condition is not known, there has been no specific treatment presented which will work in all cases. However, by following a well-balanced program of care, it is often possible to prevent any extensive scarring or permanent damage to the skin.

For example, the diet should contain no chocolate, nuts, cheese, gravies, greasy foods, or rich pastries, but an abundance of fruits, vegetables, and meats should be taken.

The hair and scalp should be washed once a week with a mild soap. Many patients with acne also have a scaly eruption of the scalp known as seborrhea. An ointment containing tar, sulphur, and salicylic acid, prescribed by the physician may be of some benefit. This should be rubbed into the scalp at night once a week before the hair and scalp are washed.

Most patients with acne have an oily skin. The excessive oil should be removed several times a day. A sulphonated oil preparation may be of value. The patient washes the face morning and night with warm water for two or three minutes, then rubs some of the sulphonated oil preparation into the skin for one minute, followed by a warm water rinse and then a cold water rinse.

It is also helpful to have the blackheads carefully removed by the physician from time to time, starting at intervals of once a week and later on once a month.

In some cases, a drying lotion containing sulphur and resorcin, used at bedtime, may bring improvement. Some patients are also benefited by X-ray treatment.

F. B.: Would the thyroid gland cause swelling in the throat and pain in the breast?

Answer: The thyroid gland might be responsible for a swelling in the throat. It would not, in all likelihood, cause pain in the breast. A thorough study should be made to determine the cause of your difficulties; then proper treatment can be advised.

Roving Reports

NEW YORK — [illegible] HOUR drinks prune [illegible] or orchids? Yep [illegible] ing about that? [illegible] g about it. But af- [illegible] e juice! Dottie my [illegible] know why that [illegible] od. One of the first [illegible] earn about movie stars is that they are often in real life the reverse of the characters they portray on the screen. They will tell you so themselves. You can't stop 'em.

Hal Boyle

Dottie is what the people in show business call a good scout — one who hasn't forgotten the folks who [illegible] ft on the way up [illegible] to talk about what [illegible] e old days." She isn't [illegible] at the memory of [illegible] elevator in a Chicago store and she probably had as much fun then [illegible] now being a movie [illegible] was here in the old [illegible] er had any money to [illegible] We were [illegible] at one of those places on Central Park [illegible] south where you can't make up your mind whether to order a dessert or save the money and buy a new suit.

"My hairdresser, Doris Harris came with me,' said Dottie. 'She's one of my best friends. I haven't had a spare moment to go to the stores, so Doris went shopping for both of us.

"SHE BROUGHT BACK about twenty dresses. We stayed up after midnight in the hotel room trying them on and deciding which we wanted."

Also with Miss Lamour — Mrs. William Ross Howard III — is her son, Ridge, 2½, who sometimes finds it pretty rugged to have a movie star for a mother.

"He won't let me hug and kiss him at all if I have lipstick on," she complained. Silly boy!

She took him to see the rushes of her latest picture, "Lulu Belle," and he began to squawl.

"RIDGE COULDN'T understand how he could be sitting on his mother's lap and still see her on the screen,' Dottie said.

Lunching with Miss Lamour is a public kind of pleasure. The other men in the joint kept rolling their eyeballs in recognition, and the women looked to see what she was wearing. Her outfit consisted — as far as I can tell—of a black veil, close-fitting black dress, a double strand of pearls and a diamond ring. The ring had three stones—each large enough to hammer an elk to death.

Dottie's only current troubles are a couple of sore ears — can't understand it. I'm usually praised as an old horse'—and people who talk about her sarong.

"This picture I really dropped it," she said, and as my ears soared she added hastily:

"I mean I didn't wear it at all. I mean I wore regular clothes. Actually, you know, I've worn a sarong in twelve pictures and I've been in 39."

The only other thing I find left over in my notebook from the luncheon is this bit of advice from Dottie:

"Don't wear a mink coat while driving a car. It rubs the fur off the back."

Two Minor Traffic Accidents Reported

Two minor accidents and one traffic arrest were reported by police during the last 24 hours.

Cars driven by Charles A. Murten, 41, of 424 West Church street and Rufus B. Casey, 50, of 505 Jefferson street collided at the intersection of Boone and Wilson avenues with moderate damage to both cars resulting.

Gene Cooper of 518 East Church street reported to police that a car, driver unknown, backed into the front of his motor scooter as it was parked on East Church street, damaging the front wheel of the scooter. Cooper said he saw the accident and called to the driver of the car but the motorist ignored his calls and drove off.

Cyril Thomas Herbert, 49, of San Francisco, Calif., pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to register his car and was given a suspended sentence of $10 and costs, the suspension contingent on his compliance with a court directive to buy Ohio plates for his car. Herbert was arrested by police at 7:56 p. m. last night on West Church street and posted a $25 bond for his appearance in court this morning.

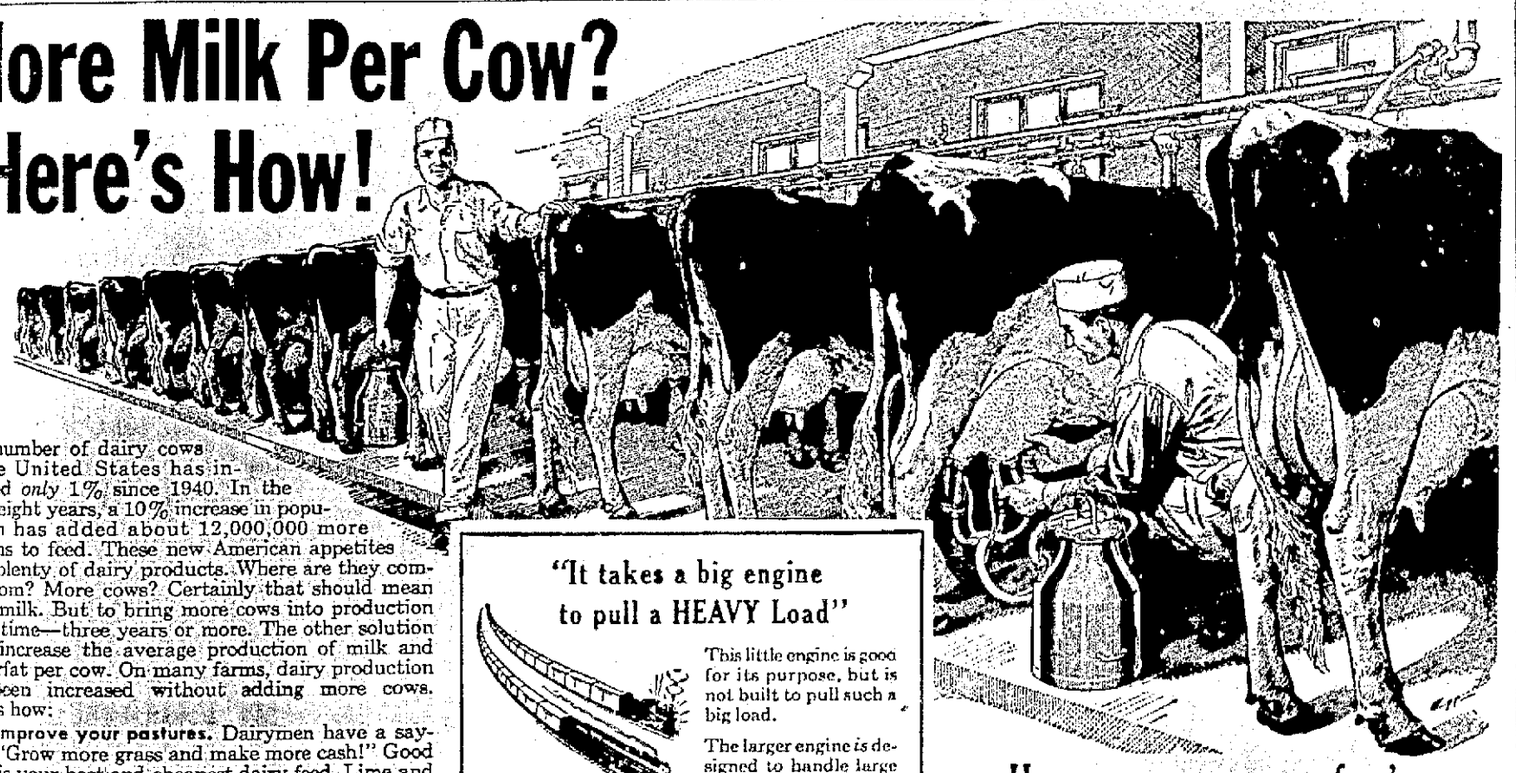
More Milk Per Cow? Here's How!



The number of dairy cows in the United States has increased only 1% since 1940. In the same eight years, a 10% increase in population has added about 12,000,000 more mouths to feed. These new American appetites need plenty of dairy products. Where are they coming from? More cows? Certainly that should mean more milk. But to bring more cows into production takes time—three years or more. The other solution is to increase the average production of milk and butterfat per cow. On many farms, dairy production has been increased without adding more cows. Here's how:

1. Improve your pastures. Dairymen have a saying—"Grow more grass and make more cash!" Good grass is your best and cheapest dairy feed. Lime and fertilize. Control weeds by spraying and mowing. Reseed to improve grasses. These are all good pasture builders.

2. Handle your milk and cream efficiently. Mechanical separators reduce loss of butterfat and improve its quality. Give more careful attention to sanitation. Quick cooling and proper handling can help you sell milk and cream, of better quality, for more profit.

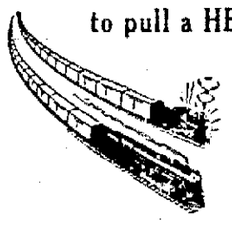
3. Eliminate cattle pests. New sprays, like derris and DDT, used on the herd and in the barn, can rid your cows of grubs, practically eliminate pesky flies and lice. These pests rob America of an unbelievable amount of milk each year. Iowa alone sets the loss caused by heel flies and grubs at nearly 250 million pounds of milk in one year.

4. Control mastitis and Bang's disease. They are serious enemies of milk production. Complete control of them could increase the nation's milk supply 20% or more. That would be one quart every day for 30,000,000 people.

5. Check with your neighbors. See what they have done to increase their herd averages. You can also get help from your County Agent, your Vocational Agricultural teacher, your State College Experiment Station, or your State Veterinarian.

Increase production with more milk per cow. And more milk per cow means more cash for you.

"It takes a big engine to pull a HEAVY Load"



This little engine is good for its purpose, but is not built to pull such a big load.

The larger engine is designed to handle large loads—efficiently, economically and easily.

Two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of the Mississippi. Bringing these two together is a job requiring a large engine.

That's why the country needs nationwide meat packers like Swift & Company. For with processing plants located where most of the livestock is raised, we can help bridge the gap between western range and the kitchen range. It is an important job, and we're proud that we are able to handle a share of it.

How you gonna care for 'em down on the farm?

Fresh, high-quality eggs grade better, bring better prices and help build consumer demand. Ideal eggs are large, fresh and clean. They are uniform in size and shape. Clear, thick whites, and firm, evenly colored yolks show good interior quality.

Top grade eggs begin with a good flock of layers, properly fed and cared for. Remove the roosters when breeding season ends—your hens will lay as well and infertile eggs keep much better. Keep the nests well filled with straw. Gather eggs two or three times a day . . . Never wash eggs! Use steel wool to clean the dirty ones . . . Keep them in a cool place—not over 60°. Sort them in the case according to color and size. Market them at least twice a week.

Remember, your best advertisement is to produce eggs which will reach the consumer fresh, clean and evenly sized. Quality helps make a better market for your eggs.

Soda Bill sez:

. . . if you bark at people all day you'll be dog-tired by night.

. . . it's funny how opportunities look so much bigger going away than when coming.

HAM & EGGS GO TOGETHER

N. R. Clark

Milk, cream, poultry and eggs brought producers a gross income of nearly 6½ billion dollars last year. That's big business!

Every family in the nation uses dairy and poultry products. These products are perishable. They have to be handled with care. It's a big job to process and distribute butter, cheese, ice cream, dressed poultry, and eggs in prime condition. It's a nationwide job—as broad and as long as America.

We have nationwide refrigerating and meat distributing facilities to serve both producers and consumers. It is economical to use these same coolers, refrigerator cars and trucks for dairy and poultry products.

The Swift salesman sells meat, poultry, eggs, cheese, butter and other products. In this way we can have one salesman for sixteen or more products, instead of sixteen salesmen each selling one product. The same goes for delivery, too.

If you were in business marketing many different products to the same buyers, would you have one salesman for each product? You would have each salesman sell many of your products. That saves money, effort, travel and the buyers' time. That's our way, too.

Standardbred vs. Crossbred Chickens

P. G. Jaap

by R. George Jaap

Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio

The relative merits of standardbred vs. crossbred chickens may be summed up in three words—not much difference. But this difference is more often in favor of the well-chosen crossbred.

The advantages of a good crossbred are: faster growth and more eggs. However, many a slip can occur in crossbreeding chickens which will make them inferior, market-wise, to standardbreds.

For example, to produce a suitable crossbred, both standardbred parental breeds must be of top quality. If one has a mediocre egg production, it is almost a certainty the resulting crossbred will be a poorer producer than the egg-producing standardbred side of the family.

The fact that crossbreds usually are darker-colored may be a market disadvantage. Many markets pay a premium for white-feathered chickens. White Plymouth Rocks are not suitable for crossbreeding. If they are crossed with New Hampshires, dark-colored chickens will often result. Therefore, the premium for whites is lost. And the slightly faster growth rate of crossbreds may not make up this profit difference.

In color of eggs, the crossbred producer is also at a market disadvantage. Most egg-producing crossbreds lay colored eggs. Many markets pay more for white eggs. Therefore, the crossbred producer forfeits the profit on white eggs until crossbreds, which will consistently lay white eggs, are produced.

In certain cases, crossbreds may develop a greater susceptibility to disease than the better parent.

It is possible to develop crossbreds superior to the better standardbred strains. But determining the most suitable crossbreds is difficult because two different breeds are involved.

Wallace Has the Ball

WHAT happened in the mixed-up diplomatic play begun last May 4 by Ambassador Smith in Moscow is gradually being cleared up.

Smith talked to Foreign Minister Molotov for the purpose of making it clear to him that the United States intended to stand firm on its Russian policy of no appeasement. Included in his statement was the customary diplomatic assurance appeasement. Included in his statement was the customary diplomatic assurance that the door was still open for settlement of pending issues, if Russia wanted to talk about them on a basis of justice and reason.

Molotov saw a chance to make propaganda out of a routine diplomatic procedure and broadcast Smith statement, distorting its text to make it sound like a bid for a new round of full dress conversations. He also seized the opportunity to make another one of his typical harangues against the United States, in the course of accepting Smith's "invitation" to reopen negotiations. Molotov obviously was acting in bad faith.

Within a few hours after all this became known officially in the United States, Henry A. Wallace was on the platform in Madison Square Garden at a prearranged rally. He was prepared with a detailed speech setting forth terms of settlement to the audience in printed form.

Wallace had been tipped off in advance. Molotov's statement was the theme of the Wallace rally in Madison Square Garden. It gave his lagging lost cause a brisk shove at a psychological moment, by stirring hopes of a rapprochement with Russia—his own campaign platform. It doesn't seem to matter who, if anyone, may be blamed for fumbling the diplomatic ball. The fact is that Helpful Henry picked it up and is running with it. If it had been planned that way—as it apparently was—it couldn't have worked any better as far as Wallace and his Communist backers in the United States were concerned.

It isn't impossible that something more than a break for Wallace may come of the incident, but it's highly improbable.

Regional Universities

THE house has gone on record, by a vote of 286 to 45, approving the southern states' regional compact on education, which was drafted in February at Tallahassee, Fla. The action doesn't obligate the federal government but was required because the Constitution requires congress' approval of interstate compacts.

The state-supported regional university is expected to come into its own as states increasingly turn their attention to expanding educational facilities. At the 1947 conference on higher education, it was noted that since few states can provide professional schools of all types, "cooperation between states or within regions is necessary because of the great expense involved in establishing and operating such institutions..."

This 15-state southern compact was drafted as a result of the recent supreme court decision requiring Oklahoma to provide law-school training for a Negro applicant. Rather than open their established professional schools to Negroes, the southern states are working at the regional university idea. The temper of the supreme court in recent racial decisions indicates it isn't likely to look with favor upon such a plan "having the color of legality." As Senator Ferguson observed, it could be used to perpetuate segregation.

Nevertheless, the regional university idea for white students as well is likely to be developed in years to come. Some of the less wealthy states cannot operate individual technical schools but can pool their resources to establish well-equipped institutions.

The Right To Be Foolish

THREE instructors in the University of Miami and an assistant professor in the University of Georgia have been fired because, they claim, they are supporting Henry Wallace for president.

If their claims are correct, someone in the two universities will have to talk very rapidly and very lucidly to explain why anyone in the United States should be fired for a point of view about politics.

The right to be foolish is unabridged. Minority parties in the United States have come and gone, each attracting its band of zealots and opportunists. The circumstance that Wallace's minority party includes a good many members suspected of something worse than foolishness is not an indictment against other members acting out of earnest conviction about politics.

If the teachers involved are incompetent—if they have let their zealotry interfere with their efficiency — that's another matter. It wouldn't be the first time someone got fired for one reason and claimed another reason, to cover up the real one. But the United States can't afford to be too touchy about the freedom of individuals to think as they please as long as they do their work properly.

The Virgin Islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus on his second voyage in 1493 and named Las Virgenes, in honor of St. Ursula and her companions.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

America's Program and an Eloquent Prayer.

AT THE very moment the government is forced to seize the railroads of the country because willful men refuse to recognize any factors in life but their personal desires and purposes, a meeting took place in New York "strengthening spiritual foundations." This was the 17th annual conference of the Chaplains Association of the Army and Navy of the United States.

I looked at their program long and hard. For on its cover was a painting of drowning men and some whom the sea would not devour because of the challenging bravery of others. It is an overwhelming picture of loyalty and devotion.

SOKOLSKY

There stand Clark V. Poling, Protestant minister, John P. Washington, Catholic priest, Alexander D Goode, Jewish rabbi, and George L Fox, Protestant minister. They stand close together holding hands as the ship goes down. They died holding hands, a brotherhood in the eternity of God, together as one man.

These clergymen were passengers on the troop transport, the S S. Dorchester, which was torpedoed off Greenland in the early morning of Feb. 3, 1943. With complete disregard for their safety, these chaplains made their way on deck and went among the confused, fear-stricken men. And finally they gave their lifejackets to four sons of American parents —these boys had lost theirs in the hysterical excitement. While others had a chance for life, these chaplains had none. "They died that all men may live in peace."

It is this cover for a program that speaks of America—of love, compassion, humanity—of unity while preserving fundamental and traditional differences. For somehow out of it comes an American religion, one that speaks of God the Father whose house is of many mansions, and we keep it so —in faith, in kindliness, in brotherhood.

A Prayer for All

And so in the memorial services, it was possible to have a common prayer, known to all and in the liturgy of each separate faith beloved—the 23rd Psalm—sung first in that Jerusalem where today men of faith destroy each other over land, which is only dust, while here a service can be presided over by a rabbi, at which the Paulist choristers provide the music.

Those who speak of our people as materialistic do not grasp the core of American civilization which, time after time, tears through the corroding encasement of only too human egotism and discloses the jewel of human brotherhood. There it is—a civilization advancing not the idea of force and power and the oppression of men, but the concept of the possibility of a cooperative society of men and women of differing faiths and individual choices living together in the spirit of God. Essentially, that is what makes America different from all other countries and on that, difficult as it may be for men to live their ideals, we have not compromised.

Eyes on the Goal

Our shortcomings are many, but our worthiness is that we acknowledge them. We know the goal and if we often fail to achieve it, we nonetheless always keep our soul's eye upon it. And the greatness of our chaplain's service in the Army and Navy and in the Air Force and the veterans administration is that we do not leave our children at war or in the preparation for or aftermath of war without the ministrations of those who love both God and America and seek to keep them close to each other. This is symbolized by the shield on the back cover of this program —a shield upon which rests a crucifix lying upon the bosom of the torah.

And this is the prayer of the final session of this program of those who wear the military uniform of the most powerful nation on earth—

"God, protect our people from the illusion and despair that racks the souls of men who live in tiny spheres. Teach us to be generous and chivalrous in our treatment of the weak. Help us to know the truth and the truth will make us free. Strengthen our confidence in thy justice, might, and power. Inspire us to be thy servants of peace and freedom, and always thy worthy sons. Amen."

Record of Unselfish Service

By Jane Eads

PATIENTS who came from the battlefields of World War I to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington dubbed the volunteer Red Cross workers "Gray Ladies" because they wore gray dresses and gray veils.

The name stuck. This month the organization of Gray Ladies is 30 years old. It has grown into an organization numbering more than 25,000 members who contribute their time and services in 851 hospitals throughout the United States.

The expansion of the Gray Ladies has not been confined to federal hospitals. More and more community institutions are finding Gray Ladies' services of value. An outstanding phase of their work today is with crippled and hospitalized children.

Every year more than 1,000,000 children are admitted to hospitals in this country. Hospital officials estimate that 40 per cent of the child patient's day is taken up with physical care, leaving 60 per cent of his time free.

Red Cross volunteers know that each child in a hospital ward must be kept calm and quiet. They also know that play, intelligently directed, can serve as preventive medicine. It directs the child's attention from himself and his ills to new ideas. They read to them, cheer them, ease the demanding tasks of the nurses. Gray Ladies help children with their school lessons in hospital wards in DeKalb County, Ga. Franklin Half - Dollars

THOUGH the new half dollar, just released for circulation, has Benjamin Franklin's profile on it, Franklin himself was against having anyone's portrait on coins.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the U. S. Mint, who is personally responsible for the design of the new coin, says so. "But probably it was royal heads he objected to," she explains.

"Had he known in his day that 150 years hence his image would be placed on a coin of this, his native land, to whose service his life was consecrated, we may assume, I believe, that he would not have been seriously displeased."

Mrs. Ross says she has been "a Poor Richard fan" all her life. She has made a hobby of studying Franklin's writings as well as the books other men have written about him. Franklin already appears on the $100 bill of the current series. She says it seemed a good idea to put him on a piece of currency which the average citizen sees more often.

The late John R. Sinnock, engraver, sculptor and designer at the Mint in Philadelphia, had practically finished the design at the time of his death, in May a year ago. His assistant, Gilroy Roberts, completed it.

The new half dollar is being minted at Philadelphia and Denver. Mrs. Ross says the Denver production of 3,500,000 will be marked "D." Each coin is individually struck. Twelve presses are turning out 3,000,000 at Philadelphia. The new coin will gradually replace the Liberty 50-cent pieces.

Too Much Boogie in Bogota, Maybe?

It is now revealed that Colombia received a large shipment of American juke boxes a few days before the recent outbreak of hostilities there.

That would seem to account for at least a portion of the disturbances.

Of course, the juke box is generally considered a weapon only for a war of nerves.

But then it is only a step from mechanized music to mechanized warfare.

Some of these South American revolutions are but little more than barroom brawls . . . and what has started more of the latter than the juke-box?

Still, one imagines the ferocity of the Colombian revolt came as a surprise to the juke-box importers, who had figured to revolutionize only the music business.

VA Pamphlet

The Veterans Administration has issued a 22-page booklet for relatives and friends of mentally ill veterans. Titled "What You Should Know About John," the booklet offers instructions for those in contact with mentally ill veterans.

It gives a word of encouragement by saying, "Take heart. There's one thing to remember. John's illness may be mild or it may be severe, but a great many men like him get well and a large number stay well. Therefore, a hopeful attitude is good sense."

Constancy to truth and principle may sometimes lead to what the world calls inconstancy in conduct.—Tryon Edwards.

Same Old Magnifying Glass

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, May 10, 1938.

A group of Republicans and conservative Democrats in the senate said they would try to eliminate all funds for public works from the $3,154,000,000 spending-lending program recommended by President Roosevelt. This they said, would reduce it about half.

Two hundred visitors, headed by Otto F. Hilderbrandt of Rock Island, Ill., grand monarch, attended a ceremonial held by Kadgar Grotto at Central Junior High school. A. H. Marks was monarch of the host lodge.

Sixty-five couples attended a dance held by members of District No. 7, Ohio Nurses association at Schwinger's hall. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Milford Schmidt, Mrs. John Rife, Mrs. Jack Messenger and Mrs. R. L. Gettman.

A daughter, Kathleen, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelly of North Prospect street.

Clouds which accompanied a chilly spring rain ruined Marion residents' opportunity to view a total eclipse of the moon scheduld for early morning hours.

L. L. Aller, 68, of LaRue, widely known central Ohio road and street contractor and breeder of harness racing horses died in a Columbus hospital.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, May 14, 1928.

Fire destroyed a dwelling house on the A. L. Shaw farm near Mt. Victory.

Work on the first marker guide for aviators was started by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in a field west of the city owned by the Marion Water Co. The plan was to place the name of the city there in huge white letters.

Robert B. Jacoby of Marion received notice that he had been admitted to the Harvard School of Law. He was to be graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in June.

Edgar F. Allen of Elyria, one of the founders of the Ohio Society of Crippled Children and president of the International Society, was speaker at the Marion Rotary club's weekly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hageman of Gurley avenue returned from Columbus, where they attended a state convention of Rebekah lodges.

Miss Mary Deal of Uncapher avenue returned from Columbus, where she had been employed as a teacher.

Mrs. K. H. Marshall was elected president of the Marion County Chapter of University Women in its annual business meeting, held at Hotel Harding.

Professionals Take Over

By Raymond Moley

CHICAGO

ANYONE who fondly believes that the voice of the people is going to play a decisive part in the great battle for the Republican nomination from now on should take a practical lesson in Illinois politics. Here, as in many other states, the voters have had their last whack. After the various primaries and local conventions, professionals take over.

The fact is that no one has or can win enough victories in popular primaries to be a truly overwhelming national people's choice. Stassen has done his best; but with so many favorite sons in the field and the disinclination of candidates to enter primaries away from home, the Minnesota man's field of action has been limited.

MOLEY

In 1912, when the bloom was on the primary and bright-eyed idealists were talking about a prodigal government coming home to the paternal people's roof, Bill Taft and T. R. put on whirlwind bouts in many states. This year, such personal engagements will be limited to a very few states.

After the delegates have been chosen, the public gets only flitting glimpses of what is going on. Talk is in whispers, and nothing is as it seems. From now on, even the Stassen people must work with the tools customary in the trade. And let it be known that they are not greenhorns.

Where It's A Lively Game

Here in Illinois, even a most industrious correspondent can report little of what will happen. But he can say a lot about what may happen. Politics is played for keeps in Illinois. Outwardly, the battle between the parties seems fast and furious. It is, in fact, governed by Queensbury rules indigenous to the state.

This is the state, it should be recalled, which, in 1860, snatched the nomination of Lincoln from New York's practical but overconfident Thurlow Weed and W. H. Seward. The Illinois boys were no slouches then. They are no less astute now, although they have no star like Lincoln this year.

The Illinois people have no great influence in other states, but they have 56 votes in the national convention. This group is a mobile band, a real armored division that makes up for its limited size by unlimited maneuverability. Its leaders keep open the best of relations with all leading candidates in other states. They can watch the rising or falling fortunes of the various contenders with calm and then choose the exact moment to throw their strength where it will be best for Illinois. Their effectiveness will be measured by their shrewdness.

Have a Favorite Son

To be sure, they have a candidate of their own in Governor Dwight Green. He is the favorite son, and he is one of the two or three strategic state directors in his own right. The Illinois crowd is not unaware that, after a lot of blood, toil, sweat and tears in Philadelphia, it would be no miracle if the laurel crown finally rested upon the Green brow.

Green is to be keynoted in Philadelphia, which is regarded as an excellent opportunity to make or break a candidate. It is certain that no effort will be spared to see that Governor Green's speech will do him no harm.

Green is an extremely lucky man. Since he first entered politics, and especially since his first election as governor in 1940, fortune has smiled on his efforts. He became a candidate just as the great Democratic flood was retreating from the agricultural areas of the Middle West.

The Kelly machine, straining every effort to turn in a big majority for Roosevelt, simply could not summon the strength to elect every Democrat on the ticket. The Kelly machine was never adverse to taking half a loaf, especially when the Federal end of the loaf held the most plums and raisins. Twice, Green won as candidate for governor, while Roosevelt carried the State.

It is clear now that Green and his group, after eight years of power in the state, would be happy to move into the ampler pastures of the federal government in Washington. This might come through the vice presidency, the cabinet or the Big Job itself.

Colonel McCormick editorially favors MacArthur. He does not favor Stassen or Vandenberg. He opposes Dewey with somewhat less vigor. But it is certain that the Republican organization itself is on reasonably friendly terms with practically all the possibilities. For, as I suggested above, Illinois politicians are practical people.

Daily Bible Thought

It appears certain that in the next higher plane of life the power of mind and love will be able to give substance to tangible realities like homes. Faith will indeed literally move mountains then.—2 Cor. 5:1: "We have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Rustle of a Silk Dress, My Eye!

The sound of a man-eating leopard stalking me in the night was like the soft rustle of a woman's silk dress."—Jim Corbett, in The Man-Eating Leopard of Rudraprayag."

* * *

Wanna bet?

We have our own impressions of being stalked by a man-eating leopard in the night and after reading the Corbett statement we have taken it up with other man-eating leopard hunters in our set. (Some of our best friends are leopard baggers.) Our Gallup poll largely supports our own verdict that if there is anything one doesn't think of when pursued by a man-eating leopard it is the soft rustle of a silk skirt.

PHILLIPS

Boy and man we have been stalked by man-eating leopards many a time. While we preferred night stalking, some of it took place by day. When stalked by a leopard in daylight the sound of the stalker did not sound like a silk rustle, either. Far from it. And when stalked by night, oh mommer.

We always thought it sounded more like the discordant flappings of a witch's burlap slap-slap of linoleum on a broom ride or something. But were a man-eating leopard on our trail we were not looking for metaphors or think of silk and beautiful women. We had one thought: "Where's there a cop?" This, we remember, was followed by a terrific yen for a telephone. Now and then, as we showed the tiger how to run, we wondered where the Red Cross was, what the Safety Council was doing and whether we should write a letter to the editor as soon as we made a tree.

* * *

Other men in our set reacted similarly. H. L. Mencken. In all my experiences with being stalked by leopards I never heard a rustle of silk I was always positive it was "celanese."

* * *

Billy Rose: I am both an old soft rustle expert and leopard man. Corbett and the leopard of Jeffries could lick 'em both.

* * *

Bugs Baer: I spent a good many years in the Rudraprayag country. I got to know personally the one that stalked Corbett and his associates seven years, in fact I felt closer to this animal than to the man-eating tiger of Zararabakra, which made it a practice to stalk a man at least a decade before making up its mind whether he was vegetable or mineral.

* * *

Fred Allen: Mr Corbett and his leopard are obviously either bidding for a radio contract or are going to be put up as one of the averse. Could it be a prelude to another Stalking Man program?"

* * *

Jimmy Durante: As Shakespeare said "He that is so close to the stalking leopard and stoppeth to classify the sound becometh by the troth a dead duck." Yes, I have been stalked by man-eating leopards but always carried a stalkie-walkie.

A casual glance at the swim suits this summer makes it obvious that they have the nude look.

Memphis Notes

By TRUMAN TWILL

Here is the kind of an item that saves the day for optimists who think they can write columns for newspapers day in and day out by keeping their eyes, ears and minds open. The one had to be smelled to be believed.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal (that's a morning newspaper, Rodney) recently printed an ad for something to be used in a chocolate cake, with ink that had been scented with—that's right—chocolate. The same newspaper then sprayed a Mother's Day ad with the smell of carnations. The Commercial Appeal really made itself appealing that day.

While the announcement of these hasty innovations in advertising said nothing about reader reaction, there must have been some pretty perplexed subscribers.

"Have you been swiping chocolates out of my private stock?" demanded Mrs. Memphis that morning, whiffing the air like a bird dog and giving her offspring the frowsy, frosty look that grumpy mamas have when they must get out of bed to get kids off to school. "Naw," said the kid, masticating his baled hay with the built-in vitamins. "But it sure smells like you'd been hitting 'em up again. Remember what Pa said—you're beginning to look like one of the new Packards—bulges everywhere. Whyn't ya lay off?"

"Why you little twirp," snapped Mrs. Memphis, doubling her fist. "Don't get fresh with me. I got the goods on ya. Let's see your teeth." So the kid bared his teeth, his old lady wouldn't take no for an answer and things went from bad to worse. Moreover, the house reeked of chocolate so much she finally had to pace down to the corner drugstore, snag a box and drive one pound closer to Fatties Anonymous. She never did figure out where the smell came from.

On the day they doped the paper with carnation juice, she glowered at Mr. Memphis. "Ah, slicked up this a. m., huh," she rasped. "Out on a big day at the races maybe. Look at me, you flathead, I'm talking to you."

"Do I have to look?" inquired Mr. Memphis, struggling under his unearned reputation of being a seeing-eye wolf. "I can't keep from hearing. What's eating at you this morning, Butter Ball?"

"That stuff you've poured all over yourself, that's what," snapped B. B., unpleating her triple chin. "What's the idea? You go getting any ideas and I'll bore a hole in your head and take 'em out with a spoon. Ya hear me?"

"Yeah, I hear you fine. You're coming through O.K.," sighed Mr. Memphis. "But you're wrong. I am not the source of the good smell. I thought maybe you were. Wonder what it could be. Maybe the kid's been messing around with my after-shave lotion. Hmm. He's gone. Probably guilty. Blame it on him. I can't imagine where else it would come from. But ain't it nice. Ahhh."

Maybe it's a good trick to print a newspaper that smells like chocolate and carnations but there will be complications.

Poland told me that ... they don't want to be ... [illegible] ... home?

We ... [illegible] ... Palestine, ... free enterprise.

When asked if they want to be farmers they reply:

"We don't care what we do so long as we get to Palestine."

Well, it strikes me that one of the fundamental reasons for this display of determination is spiritual. In any event my observation leads me to believe that this certainly is true of the Orthodox Jews. Palestine has been the spiritual homeland of the Jews for 4,000 years since the time of the Patriarch Abraham who emigrated from Mesopotamia to Canaan. It is the place where many Orthodox Jews would like to be buried if that were feasible.

NATURALLY THERE is no thought that the Jewish citizens of America and of other democratic and far right countries will flock to Palestine and take up residence there. Still, the little country does provide a refuge for thousands of Jews who have been rendered homeless and set adrift by the Hitlerian aggression which had as one of its horrible objectives the destruction of all Jewish peoples whom the Nazi barbarian could reach.

And these returns of Hitler aren't the only ones who long for new homes. Did you ever visit any of the eastern European cities which have restricted the Jews to the ghettos? I have, and conditions have been terrible. Not only that but often the Jewish quarters have been swept by fierce pogroms, due to racial hatreds.

SO PROVISION of a refuge for the needy is a second reason for the desire to establish a national home. And then there seems to me to be yet another—the pride of seeing a Hebrew government once more functioning in the land of the great kings, Saul and David and Solomon.

Of course there is another side to the story—the Arab side. The Arabs, who outnumber the Jews in Palestine about two to one, and also have their spiritual and nationalistic claims, are dead against a partition of the country and the establishment of a separate Jewish state. Thus it is that we find the British mandate over Palestine ending in bloody strife between Jews and Arabs and with prospects of an even worse upheaval before the issue is settled.

Newsmen Exempted From "Secrets" Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 11—The house voted yesterday to exempt newsmen from penalties of the so-called secrets bill.

The bill provides fines and imprisonment for making public information given to a congressional committee and marked confidential by the committee. Another provision requires that government agencies must give information to congressional committees on demand.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) offered an amendment to exempt news reporters and limit the penalties to members of congress and employes of congressional committees. It was approved without opposition.

CITY BUILDING PLANS STUDIED

Councilmen Meet To Consider Two Proposals for New Hall.

In an executive session at city hall last night Marion's city councilmen delved deeper into the question of the relocation of city offices.

Indications today were that last night's meeting was only the first of a series of such meetings as Councilmen Harold F. Robinson, Charles R Pennisten and James C. Jenkins, who form council's land and buildings committee, complied with a will to the call for speed in the settlement of the problem of relocating city hall, issued at council's Monday night meeting by Council President William G. Slack.

Last night's meeting was not a time for decisions but for the further enlightenment of councilmen on the potentialities of the two alternative proposals for the city hall relocation submitted to them Monday night.

The long term plan for adding to and converting portions of the Prospect street fire station to house city offices was suggested by Councilman Don R. Biggert, Fourth ward, and Clarence H. Sanden, Sixth ward.

A second plan, suggested by council's building committee, was the rental by the city of the former Neuman Cigar Co. building, located at the corner of North Main and George streets.

Although councilmen said no decisions were reached, it is indicated this second plan was the subject of last night's talks as council had directed at its last meeting the building committee call a special meeting as soon as possible to report further details of the possibilities of this plan.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler and E. O. Uncapher, city safety-service director also attended the meeting.

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—Jerome A. Nevius, former Clark county prosecutor now serving a prison term for bribery, must wait another year before the question of his parole will be considered.

With time off for good behavior, the 36-year-old prosecutor became elegible for parole hearing this month.

"INEPT," SAYS TAFT OF FOREIGN POLICY

Taft [illegible] the [illegible] annual [illegible] of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce that the nation's foreign policy was conducted in a completely wavering and inept manner.

He said a meeting between the United States and Russia as suggested by the exchange of notes between Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, "might be a useful weapon for the accomplishment of peace." But he criticized the administration for not telling the American people about the note before Russia had a chance to use them for propaganda purposes.

The Republican presidential hopeful said he was in favor of doing business with the United Nations, but he criticized the UN charter because it has no provision for the drafting or enforcement of laws.

"I feel very strongly that we should proceed to sit down with all those nations who are willing to do so and write a law governing the relations of different nations with each other, and laying down a rule of conduct for nations, with particular reference to a definition of aggression," Sen. Taft said. "When it is done, we should agree on an interpretation of that law by an impartial tribunal and agree to abide by the decisions of that tribunal."

$17,000 STOLEN FROM MEAT COMPANY SAFE

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., May 14—Burglars broke open two safes at the Rittberger Brothers wholesale and retail meat company early today and took $17,000 in cash.

Apparently two men, and possibly three, participated in the burglary, two sets of fingerprints were found in the company office. The operator of a nearby filling station said three men, exhibiting nervousness, visited his place shortly after midnight.

The burglars broke open a window to enter and apparently used crowbars to pry open the safes. The money was in a small safe. Nothing was in a large safe.

Carl C Rittberger Jr., one of the owners, said the company kept a large amount of cash on hand for purchasing livestock.

Only $3,000 of the stolen money was insured, the company said.

POLICE

Each police car carries an AM receiver. Police cars broadcasting to headquarters however broadcast on FM wavelength and an FM receiver is used at headquarters to receive these messages.

The advantage of FM equipment over AM equipment, authorities say, is the elimination of much of the usual static and interference which has always been the bane of police radios.

Present System

The situation at present, and for some time past, has been that cars of the county sheriff's department, and the car of the dog warden W. M. Warner have been equipped with AM receiving sets tuned to the wave length of the city police radio but have had no central broadcasting station for county work. City police have been carrying county messages gratis.

A key point of yesterday's discussion was how the cost of maintaining a 24-hour police radio operation, requiring the full time services of three radio men at an annual cost of about $10,000 was to be defrayed. To date this work has been done by the three officers on desk duty at police headquarters. These officers have been regular members of the police department and on the city payroll. No decision was reached on this question at yesterday's meeting.

Zanesville Lady Lost 35 Lbs. Thanks to Rennel

Mrs. Clara Clice, 513 Moxahala Ave., Zanesville, Ohio writes us, "I feel 100% better since taking Rennel and I have lost 35 pounds. Before I felt tired and lazy but now I have more pep than I have had in years."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel.

Dearest mother, how we miss you,
No one knows the pain you bore,
But we know that you have left us
To return, no, never more.
No more upon this earth we'll see
Your sweet and smiling face,
There is no one in this world
Who can ever take your place.
Now we must journey on without you,
Though the day be long and sad,
Ever looking unto Jesus,
The best friend we ever had.
God takes our loved ones from our homes,
But never from our hearts;
It is hard for us to say goodbye,
But we all must part.
Rest, dear mother, your work is done.
And when the day of life is fled,
May we all meet up in heaven
Where no farewell tears are shed.

Sadly missed by Husband, Daughters and Sons.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE OF ARMY MEETS HERE

Reserve Instructor and School Principal Are Guests.

Members of the Marion Army Advisory committee were joined by Capt. John B. Weaver, unit instructor, U. S. Army, and A. C. May, principal at Harding High school, at a meeting held Wednesday at Hotel Marion.

A letter from Lt. General L. T. Gerow, commanding officer of the Second Army, was read in which he expressed his appreciation to the committee for serving in an advisory capacity in matters that vitally affect the cause of common defense. He stated he realized the sacrifice of time the work imposed upon the personal affairs of the members.

Mr. May discussed recruiting in the public schools. It was agreed the Army's problem is one of disseminating the proper information to all students who seek further orientation in regard to the Army as a career. The next meeting will be held in June.

Members present were John B. Mills, chairman, Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, Harold G. Greenfield, David Pollak, B. F. Copeland, Robert Selinger, Karl Bechtle and Owen Meddles.

RUSSIA TOPS CZECH TRADE

Red Star Rises In Commercial Activity with Bohemia, U.S. Down to 9th.

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, May 14—Russia has climbed into first place in Czechoslovakia's foreign trade, the authoritative weekly Prague "Economist" reports.

The paper says Yugoslavia was in second place and the United States down to ninth in foreign trade during the first quarter of 1948.

The quarter showed an unfavorable trade balance for Czechoslovakia of $72,000,000, the Russian figure alone accounting for $28,146,000.

From the first days of the Communist capture of power, trade officials stressed that this nation would have to keep at least 55 per cent of its foreign trade with the west, and the foreign trade minister, Anton Gregor, repeated that recently in Paris. He added that Czechoslovakia intended to fulfill her commitments.

When he returned to Prague, however, he announced that a drive to increase trade with the planned economy countries would be intensified, and looked optimistically for a new year's trade treaty with France.

Russia's rise to the top may spell the beginning of the work days of a new five-year trade pact signed in Moscow last November. The first quarter also saw much of the delivery of the 600,000 tons of grain promised by Marshal Stalin as part of the deal. The delivery was completed in April, topped by a five per cent bonus.

The first quarter figures also mirrored a huge increase in the amount of food imported and a 75 per cent drop in the value of food exported, as against the first quarter of 1947. Most of this was due to the severe drought last summer which changed Czechoslovakia sharply into a potato and sugar importing country.

Total imports in the first quarter this year were placed at $224,356,000, and exports at $72,000,000 less.

The Economist figures for the quarter showed that the United States exported $9,976,000 worth of goods into Czechoslovakia, and imported only $1,142,000 from Czechoslovakia.

Complete Terrace Work On Farms in County

Over one-half mile of terracing was completed last week on the farms of A. Gail Smith of Pleasant township and Alfred M. Lauther of Richland township. The terraces were constructed on the sloping fields to reduce the water runoff and to reduce the soil erosion from occurring on these sloping fields. Technical assistance furnished by the U. S. soil conservation service and the two bottom plow and tractor of both cooperating farmers was all that was necessary to accomplish these conservation practices. Contouring of corn fields to save soil by plowing and planting on the contour instead of up and down the hill is being done this spring on the farms of Dale Lawrence, Weldon Dutt, Jay Cochran, Dick Cusick, Homer Kile, Dean Hinamon, J. F. McElheny.

This conservation work is a part of soil and water conservation plans developed on the farms through the cooperation of the farmer and the Marion County Soil Conservation District.

HIGH COST OF WAR, PEACE—U. S. foreign aid in the past eight years—estimated at slightly upwards of $80,000,000,000—amounts to around $741 for every man, woman and child of the U. S. 145,000,000 population. The map shows part of this amounts to be divided among European nations the first year under supervision of European Recovery Administrator Hoffman. Iceland, also included, will receive $10.9 millions. Two of the 16 aid nations—Portugal and Switzerland—will receive nothing the first year. Reports that Russia may incorporate Romania (in black) as the 17th Soviet Republic are believed an indication Moscow is giving up on scuttling plan. (International photos).

The building, which is nearly 100 years old, is a one-story frame building, 29 by 45 feet, and is on a one-third acre lot. The last service held in the church was in September, 1946.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

W[illegible] second!" Mary im- [illegible] "Do you mean by [illegible] that Georges took a [illegible] plining our Katie? [illegible] I feel sorry for Georgy [illegible] reveres royalty, but [illegible] I can imagine her [illegible] with all ten finger nails ready for his face, if he should try telling her off!"

"Perhaps," Katharine suggested lazily, "it was Mr. 'K' Katie would have much more respect for a 'great big det-ec-a-tiff' than she would for an exiled king."

"If you dames," Harry Underwood broke in stridently, "would just shut your respective traps and let Madge do the talking, we might get somewhere by breakfast time."

"You sweet thing" his wife rhapsodized with an impish grin at him. "My own lambie pie! You've called the turn. Madge has the floor. Name the man, Madge, who put the fear of God into our Katie."

"He hadn't when we left," I said. "Katie was still repenting under her own steam, generated by the rebuke and threats I had uttered. But the man who assured me that never again would I be troubled with Katie's tantrums, was her husband, Jim."

"Jim?" they all echoed incredulously. "No, never Jim! Why, she bosses him all over the lot."

"That's what I thought until tonight," I told them. "Oh, I knew he has asserted himself when it was absolutely necessary, but he usually has let her have her own way. But tonight he astounded me with his iron determination. He said that he was going to leave our employ with Katie, although it broke his heart, or words to that effect, to do it, because he wasn't going to have me annoyed with her temper tantrums again. He said he didn't mind her taking them out on him, he could stand them, but that he was taking her away as soon as we could find somebody."

"I'll bet you resolved to take years to find somebody," Mary cut in slyly.

"Jim wasn't fooling," I told her. "He would have taken her away after a certain interval, without any more argument. I did everything except go down on my knees to him—"

"And you'd have done that if he hadn't wilted,' Lillian teased.

I "acknowledged the corn," even as I made a face at her.

"I probably would," I said. "But he finally agreed to give Katie another trial, adding a bit savagely, that he 'never had lifted a hand to her' but that if she ever bothered me again with a tantrum he was 'going to give her what she'd been needing'."

"May I live to see that day'" Lillian ejaculated fervently. "I'll back Katie's heels and finger nails against Jim's hickory stick, if ever does try to discipline her. But I think the threat of leaving the place will do the trick. I predict no more trouble with Katie."

"She and Mrs. Tiger were spreading sweetness and light like maple syrup all over the place and each other when we left," Dicky said. "But do get on with Georges, Sweet. He's the high light of this script."

I plunged immediately into the saga of Georges, beginning with his announcement that he knew Mary's breakdown was because of her frustrated love for him, of his unanswered sacred letters to her, of his great love for Olina, and of the demands of his conscience which was forcing him to ask Olina for a postponement of the wedding until he could hear from Mary's own lips her assurance that she did not love him.

"Hoping all the time that her eyes would tell him something else," Lillian commented cynically. "Well, I've heard fantastic yarns in my time, but never in a long and checkered and more or less sinful career have I ever heard anything to compare with this. I suppose you convinced him of his error, or you wouldn't be here, you'd be keeping company with Dicky in that jail cell, or a padded one in Bellevue But, how did you ever manage it?"

"I didn't," I said "Dicky did the convincing, and almost wrecked Georges' brain and spirit and morale in the process."

"I personally will pin an orchid on his coat lapel," Lillian said "Tell us how you did it, Dicky-bird."

O-I League Teams Must Be Cut to 18 Players Monday

By BILL DIEM
Star Sports Editor

Monday is an important date in the Ohio-Indiana league

That's the day the eight teams in the class D circuit have to be down to the player limit of 20

The league rules that for the first 20 days of the season, 20 active players may be carried on the team, but thereafter, the limit is a dozen and a half

Come Monday and two more players will join the group of 26 who have failed to make the grade with the Marion Cubs

Already the local ball club's roster has undergone a considerable change since the first training session April 5 Of the 37 who reported on that first day, only 12 remain, and several other hopefuls have come and gone since then

THE QUESTION FACING the eight managers in the O-I circuit today is what two men to cut off over the weekend.

Manager Lewis (Zeke) Bekeza of the Cubs, who does his piloting from the bench now while his broken hand gone is healing, plans to carry two catchers five infielders three outfielders and eight pitchers

The Cub roster at the present time shows the two catchers and the three outfielders, but one extra pitcher and one extra infielder, and the cuts will probably go to these two departments

Backstopping for the Cubs now are Tomas Ray Gatis and Bob Shuford, the 230-pound left-handed batter who last year clouted out 12 homers and a .296 batting average as a right fielder for the locals. Shuford, a native of Forest City, North Carolina reported here today from the Selma, (Ala.) Cubs of the Class B Southeastern league, where he had been converted into a catcher because of his size "Shus" and Manager Bekeza are the only married men on the squad. The Shufords spent a good part of the winter in Marion and are happy to be back

OUTFIELDERS ARE BILL BOLDUC, the club's leading long ball hitter, William Lee Bohlander, one of the top hitters with a .390 batting average and leader in run batted in with 12, and newcomer Robert J Bracken, who was sent to Marion by the Centralia (Ill.) Cubs of the Illinois State league with the approval of the Des Moines (Iowa) Cubs of the class A Western league. He is in his first year of baseball, bats and throws right and is 19 years old

Bracken hasn't yet appeared in any of Marion's games, having just arrived today

The six infielders are Kenneth Ostrander and newcomer Jim Kyker at first base, the league's leading batter, Tony Mislovich, at second, Lou Castrovince and newcomer Don Schmitt at third, and Dale "Pete" Schnepf at shortstop

Ostrander has been here from the very first, but played third base until two weeks ago when he took over the initial sack He is batting .280 and one of his blows was a four-run, game-winning clout over the Lincoln park scoreboard that earned him a $25 bond from the National City bank

HE BATS AND THROWS RIGHT, but Jim Kyker who joined the Cubs on their ill-fated trip to Richmond this week, bats and throws left

Kyker was sent to the Cubs from Visalia Calif and, other things being equal, has the edge over Ostrander for the first base job because he is a southpaw, and the club's only lefthanded batter besides Shuford and pitcher Frank DeLuca.

He has yet to show his ability in a game, however, and has not by any means earned the job.

Tony Mislovich has had phenomenal luck at bat since he joined the club a little more than two weeks ago His .579 average as of last Monday is the best in the Ohio-Indiana league And because of his showing at bat, the Lima Terriors are probably still kicking themselves in the pants, for Tony was with the Terriers early this season but they let him go.

He has been lead-off batter since his first game, when he batted second.

Lou Castrovince is another one of the 12 who have been with the ball club since the beginning He is currently batting .219.

Schmitt, who played his first game with the Cubs last Saturday, has been used both at third base and in the outfield He has accounted for one of the club's three home runs and was robbed of another by a wire in the left field of Lincoln park He is batting a fat .385.

SHORTSTOP PETE SCHNEPF is right behind Schmitt in the club's hitting standings with a .333 He has been here from the first, but has appeared in but five of nine games Pete has a strong arm, he's big and young and the parent Chicago Cubs think he has a lot in prospect.

In his first game, he was a bit over-anxious, and was charged with two errors when he threw wild to first base but he has settled down since then.

The nine pitchers are fast-baller Nick Altrojvodic, the league's leading hurler with three wins and no losses, Ray Burgemeister, Frank DeLuca, Ramon Peet Fred Wensing, and southpaws Si Pavkov, John Graney, Frank Marchelli and Mitchell Gegax.

MARCHELLI AND GEGAX are recent and untried additions to the club, having joined it this week, but the others have been here since early April.

Burgemeister, Wensing and Graney appeared in the Cubs' five-man mound parade against Springfield last Saturday, Wensing, the starter, being charged with the 12-6 loss Graney also worked four innings against Muncie in the Cubs' second game of the season, but none of the three has gone the distance.

DeLuca has won none and lost one and Peet has one victory to his credit.

Si Pavkov pitched a 6-0 shutout over Muncie in the opener, but has failed in two occasions since, being charged with two losses In a third game, he pitched to but one man, whom he walked Pavkov probably has the largest assortment of pitches of any of the mound corps but has been wild since his first game

Nine months as physical director of the Marion YMCA constituted his last civilian affiliation with sports before entering the service

Asked early this morning about his plans for the coming football season, Sharrock said that having just been informed of his acceptance he had not outlined any football strategy but expected to run most of his plays off a single wingback formation.

The figures Anion include games of May 9, give the Lima Terrior's castoff infielder now with the Cubs a plump .579 average and the Cubs a .286 mark

In that one game alone, Mislovich batted 1.000, getting three singles in three official trips The Cubs hit safely 22 times in 45 trips Sunday afternoon for a collective .490 average

Mislovich's nearest competitor at bat is catcher Tim Marchey of Newark who is batting .500

The Cubs are fourth in team fielding, behind Muncie, Portsmouth and Zanesville. The leading Reds have a .942 mark and the Cubs are 27 percentage points behind at .915

Bob Neman of Muncie has made a name for himself by leading the league in home runs, 3, in the most hits, 17, and in total bases, 31. He is third in the batting standings with a .459

Boo Fruciano of Richmond also copped top billing in two departments. He leads in runs scored with 18 and in stolen bases, with seven.

Carl Bush of Muncie walked off with the runs batted in title by knocking in 15

Bill Ford of Muncie and Dick Vonderhaar of Springfield are tied for the most triples honors with three each

Five pitchers are right behind Altrojvodic in the pitching records all tied for second with two wins and no losses

Ray Poat Pitches Giants to Lead with 2-Hit Shutout Over Cards

Success of Ex-Indian Takes Heat Off Sale of Voiselle to Boston

By The Associated Press

Ray Poat's spring success takes the heat off New York Giant officials who booted Bill Voiselle to Boston for a sore-armed pitcher now retired.

The two-hit shutout that Poat threw against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday boosted the Giants in the National league lead. Dennie Voiselle's four straight victories put the Braves still are in the second division.

Furthermore, there is no assurance that Voiselle would sport that 4-4 record if he still worked for manager Mel Ott. "Old 96" may have forgot the $500 fine that was handed out for throwing a wild pitch at St. Louis in 1945.

Has No Regrets

Ott probably has no regrets about the trade that sent Voiselle to the Boston Braves last summer for Mort Cooper, even if Cooper never did regain his old form. Cooper finally quit and returned to run his business in St. Louis.

Poat, purchased from Baltimore last summer after failing to make the grade with Cleveland, now has won three of four.

A single by Enos Slaughter in the second inning and a double by Red Schoendienst in the third were the only St. Louis hits off Poat in his 5-0 win. For five innings it was a scoreless duel between Poat and Red Munger but the Giants got two in the sixth and knocked out Munger in the eighth.

Voiselle, who underwent an operation for varicose veins during the winter, blanked Chicago with four hits, 2-0, to leave Boston at the .500 mark. Bob Elliott drove in both runs with a single and an infield out. It was a fourth loss for hard luck Johnny Schmitz who also gave up only four hits.

Brooklyn broke even in the west by sinking Cincinnati, 9-3, for the Reds' seventh straight loss.

Pittsburgh squeezed ahead of St. Louis into second place in the National by a night game win over the Phillies, 5-1. Rookie Bob Chesnes, making his first start in the majors, received credit for the decision.

The Philadelphia Athletics, their 10-game winning streak intact as they were not scheduled yesterday, come into the Yankee stadium today to open a vital four-game series with New York.

By The Associated Press

Pitching: Ray Poat, Giants—Pitched New York into National league lead with two-hit shutout over St. Louis, 5-0.

Batting: Jackie Robinson, Dodgers—Drove in three Brooklyn runs in 9-3 win over Cincinnati with double and two singles.

O-I STANDINGS MAY GET A SCRAMBLING

Three Doubleheaders Scheduled Tonight.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—Don't be surprised if the Ohio-Indiana baseball league standings get a scrambling tonight.

Rain flooded out three or four scheduled contests last night. That set the stage for three doubleheaders tonight, with the top nines in the league involved.

Lima nipped Richmond last night, 4-1, in the only contest that escaped the rain, and the win allowed Lima to slip around Richmond into sixth place.

Joe Pingle of Lima pitched a masterful five - hitter against Richmond although Leo Gulvus relieved him in the ninth when Richmond counted its only run. Hal Luddy turned in a seven-hitter for Richmond, but errors in the fifth and four bunched blows in the eighth defeated him.

Tonight's schedule:

Newark at Springfield (2), Zanesville at Portsmouth (2), Marion at Muncie (2) and Lima at Richmond.

Last night's line score:

Lima	000 020 020—4	7	1
Richmond	000 000 001—1	5	1

Pingle, Gulvus (9) and Halder; Luddy and Roberts.

Vernon Juniors Down Bucyrus on Track

Vernon Junior High school defeated the Bucyrus juniors, 57-33, in a twilight dual track meet in a heavy rain at Bucyrus Wednesday.

It was the second of three dual meets scheduled on the Bucyrus track in preparation for the Tri-City meet at Galion, May 18. The Galion Juniors defeated Central earlier in the week.

Vernon took eight of 11 firsts, Kennell winning the 120 low hurdles in :17; Witter the high jump, four-feet, 11 inches; Gerber the discus, 95 feet 5 inches; Bracy the 880 in 2:35.9, Gerber the 440 dash in :65.2, and the team the 440, 880, and mile relays.

James, Jones, Ludwig, and Ulrich sped the 440 in :58.8; Jones, Eastman, Hunt, and Ulrich the 880 in 1:55.1; and Jones, Eastman, Ludwig, and Gerber the mile in 4:35.1.

An oddity of the meet was that the two track coaches were graduates from the school their teams were competing against — Darl Gatchel of Vernon was a Bucyrus man, and Coach Tschanen of Bucyrus was a Harding man.

The May 18 Tri-City meet will bring together Bucyrus, Galion, Vernon, Central, and Edison junior high schools for the first time on the track.

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., May 14 — Grand circuit harness racing winds up its 1948 meeting at Santa Anita tomorrow as eight horses go postward in the $10,000 Western Pace and the $10,000 Western Trot.

Both races are limited to horses which finished behind the first four money-winners in the two $50,000 specials for the pacers and trotters.

The feature trot includes Macduff, Red Tower, Knola, Lingo Direct, Walter Spencer and Proximity.

Both races are at a mile and one quarter.

The added feature will be a race against the clock by the giant Rodney at a flat mile. Rodney has two world marks to his credit, the mile and one-sixteenth in 2:09 2/5 and the mile and one quarter in 2:31 3/5. Greyhound owns the mile mark against time at 1:55 1/5.

WINLESS REDS HAPPY TO LEAVE HOME BOOS

Brooks Hand Cincinnati 7th Straight Loss.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 14—The victory - strayed Cincinnati Reds opened a two-week road trip here today, thankful to be away from Crosley Field and the daily boos and cat-calls which accompanied their seven-game losing streak.

Kent Peterson was Manager Johnny Neun's overnight choice to oppose the Chicago Cubs in the opener of a three-game series Dutch McCall was the Chicago pitcher.

The Reds committed four errors yesterday, to the accompaniment of jeers from the crowd, as they fell before the Brooklyn Dodgers at Crosley Field, 9-3. It was their seventh straight loss and 11th in their last 12 outings

Don Lund's three-run homer and another circuit smash by Carl Furillo helped the Brooks score their second win over Cincinnati in as many days

The day brought added woe to the hapless Redlegs Their second sacker, Benny Zientara, was knocked unconscious in a collision with Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn first baseman, and will be out of service for at least several days

The accident occurred in the third inning when Zientara was covering first on Robinson's bunt Starting pitcher Kenny Raffensberger fielded the ball but threw wide to first. Benny reached for the ball just as Robinson ran hard into the bag.

Both players went down and Zientara was unconscious for five minutes Robinson recovered and continued playing to collect two doubles and a single for the day

The Reds were impotent against the slants of Preacher Roe, Brooklyn lefty, except in the fifth when a single, a double and catcher Dewey Williams first Cincinnati homer plated three runs

ON RAIL FRONT. Hurriedly packing his briefcase, Andrew F. McIntyre of the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York zone, prepares to leave for Washington. A brigadier general in the Transportation Corps during the war, he was asked to report to Maj Gen. Edmund Leavey, operating agent of the railroads, which are now government controlled.

OHIO CAGE TOURNEYS WERE BIG BUSINESS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—Ohio's 1948 high school basketball tournament blazed a big business bracket, Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said today

The annual cage carnival, from the county eliminations through the state championship games, drew 890,401 fans who paid $535,894.02. Both marks are new records

Attendance figures, despite a drop of about 2,000 in the sectional-district play, showed an overall hike of about 19,000 over the record of 1947, while gate receipts were up about $38,000

For the first time in history, the State High School Athletic Association's "take" from the basketball games soared over $50,000.

Clark county's tournament at Springfield, with Enon the big drawing card, outshone all the other preliminary round attractions with an attendance of 15,297

Uncle Sam had a field day in taxes, taking $86,301 57 from the $535 894 pot

Commissioners Approve Ditch Repair Estimates

Marion county board of commissioners yesterday approved the county engineers specifications and plans and the assessments for improving the Cusick ditch in Marion township

Cost of the project is estimated to be in excess of $1,000 and the contract for the ditch improvement will be let at 10 a m June 17

Improvements on the ditch were originally ordered by the commissioners Jan 15, of this year after the initial hearing on the ditch petition filed by George E Packer and others

The dates upon which bids will be accepted for the improvement contract will be announced later, Walter S Gutnnie, clerk of the board said today

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

PATRICE MUNSEL, born May 14, 1925, in Spokane, Wash., is the "baby coloratura" of the Metropolitan Opera where she made her debut at 18 in 1943. Munsel, daughter of a dentist, was a school-girl when she went to New York for study. She won a prize in the Metropolitan radio series "Auditions of the Air," giving her a contract with the Metropolitan Opera Co.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Railroads have been operating satisfactorily under Army administration but I don't think train callers should say "merchants limited now ready on track 30 . . . Fall in!"

* * *

And I understand that some dining car stewards insist on whipping out bugles and blowing mess call.

* * *

Passengers have noticed little change except that on trains passing West Point the conductor shouts "ten-shun!"

* * *

The only hitch so far was an admiral who refused to trust his life to the Army . . . He has taken a bench in Grand Central station 'till this thing blows over.

* * *

But it sure looks funny to see a colonel with an eagle on his shoulder and a lantern on his arm.

* * *

Union officials are indignant at the Army taking over . . . They believe that Army operations should be confined to the narrow gauge roads to Europe.
